I grew up in a small town called Yorksville, just outside of Boston. It is one of those average places you sometimes see in the movies: a bit dull but quiet and peaceful at the same time. I clearly remember the people 1_____ lived in my street – the nicest folks you can imagine. I had a lot of friends there and enjoyed 2_____ with them after school. With my best friend Tom, we would read comics all the time and secretly listen 3_____ CDs from my dad's collection. I was never much of an athlete. I mean, I tried to 4_____ some exercise at least once a week to keep fit, so I started jogging but I was too lazy and gave it up in the end. Besides, Yorksville 5_____ be very windy in winter, and jogging in this kind of weather is no pleasure at all, believe me. My father found a great place in the suburbs, and decided to buy it even 8_____ it was in poor condition. He renovated the house with the help of his friends and made it look as good as new. I remember very well the day we moved in because I had broken 9_____ with Amy, my girlfriend, the day before. My parents still live there – the town has got bigger now and it is not so quiet anymore. A few modern housing estates have been built over ten years and a new shopping mall 10_____ opened last month, so Yorksville is no longer the quiet town it used to be.

A) Man loses trousers in Manchester, England An unlucky man asked people on Facebook to help him find his trousers that he had lost the previous night. Josh Holloway from Reading went for a few drinks with his Manchester friends to celebrate his birthday but a few drinks evidently became too many. When he woke up in his hotel room he couldn't find his trousers and had to ask the manager of the hotel to go and buy him a new pair. But there was a hitch as his vallet and ID were in his old trousers. So, he was made to phone his friends to bring him some trousers so that he didn't have to walk in the streets in his red underpants. As soon as he posted his story on Facebook, people started to share and like his story as well as laugh at it. Luckily, his trousers were delivered to the hotel late in the afternoon with all its contents.

How were his trousers delivered to the hotel?

- 1 By a man in red underpants.
- 2 We don't know.
- 3 By his friends.
- 4 By the hotel manager.

B) Girl finds a five-leaf clover and makes a special wish

Kate Malsin from Devonshire found a rare five-leaf clover while she was playing in the playground near her home. She made the lucky discovery after many attempts to find a four-leaf clover before, which were not successful. After finding the rare mutation she made a wish for the Queen of England to be in good health and to live forever. Her mum said she had been studying the Queen and the Royal Family at school and she had developed a lot of passion for this subject. She also said Kate was going to press the clover and keep it forever. Kate is going to look for more four-leaf clovers in the future and she would be happy if she found a six-leaf one. She isn't sure what wish she might make but probably it will be connected with her family.

Why did Kate make the special wish?

- 1 Because she had been learning about the Queen at school.
- 2 Because she had found a four-leaf clover.
- 3 Because she wants to make her family happy.
- 4 Because she would like to find more five-leaf clovers in future.

C) Passport picture leaves man horrified

Mr Fitchner from Burton, England, says he was horrified to see his passport photo changed by a design error that made his passport picture resemble former German dictator Adolf Hitler. He had renewed his passport ahead of his trip to Italy, to celebrate his birthday, but he had to send it back because of the close resemblance of the Nazi leader. "I was angry and distraught when I saw it and couldn't imagine that I would have to keep it for ten years. But I wasn't sure if it was possible to change so I contacted the Passport Office. They said they would change it for free and I couldn't be happier." He decided to post his story and the photo on Facebook, which made it famous all over the world.

Why did Mr Fitchner had his passport renewed?

- 1 Because he wasn't happy with the photo.
- 2 Because he had to keep it for ten years.
- 3 Because his Facebook friends helped him.
- 4 Because he was going on holiday to Italy.

I grew up in a small town called Yorksville, just outside of Boston. It is one of those average places you sometimes see in the movies: a bit dull but quiet and peaceful at the same time. I clearly remember the people _____ lived in my street – the nicest folks you can imagine. I had a lot of friends there and enjoyed _____ with them after school. With my best friend Tom, we would read comics all the time and secretly listen _____ CDs from my dad's collection. I was never much of an athlete. I mean, I tried to _____ some exercise at least once a week to keep fit, so I started jogging but I was too lazy and gave it up in the end. Besides, Yorksville _____ be very windy in winter, and jogging in this kind of weather is no pleasure at all, believe me. We _____ living in a small flat when my brother was born. We all needed more space, so my parents decided to move to _____ detached house. My father found a great place in the suburbs, and decided to buy it even _____ it was in poor condition. He renovated the house with the help of his friends and made it look as good as new. I remember very well the day we moved in because I had broken _____ with Amy, my girlfriend, the day before. My parents still live there – the town has got bigger now and it is not so quiet anymore. A few modern housing estates have been built over ten years and a new shopping mall _____ opened last month, so Yorksville is no longer the quiet town it used to be.
